ABOUT COMBAT READY FIRE TRAINING

Combat Ready Fire Training is built on the principles of readiness, excellence, and our duty to others. Our programs are developed and delivered by experienced fire service professionals who actively operate in engine, truck and command roles. CRF provides practical, street-smart training rooted in real fireground experience that leaves students feeling prepared and motivated. Our goal is to deliver instruction that is directly applicable to department operations, strengthens decision-making under pressure, and improves performance and outcomes on the fireground.
